(By Associated Press)
Washington, Nov. 24.—Definite news of the sinking of a German submarine by American torpedo boat destroyers reached the navy department in telegrams from Rear Admiral Sims today.

After hitting the submarine, the American destroyers tried to tow it to port and had a line attached when it sank.

The dispatch from Admiral Sims says that two American destroyers took part in the action, that one sighted the raider at a distance of 400 yards, headed for it and it was then that the depth bomb ended the career of the submarine.

Soon after being hit, the submarine came to the surface but there was no sign of life on board. After remaining on the surface for a short time, it sank out of sight.

U. S. GOVERNMENT THREATENS TO TAKE OVER COAL MINES

Failure of Michigan Miners to Comply With Fuel Administration's Rulings May Result in Drastic Action--New England Shortage Will Be Relieved

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Nov. 24.—Michigan coal operators were notified by Fuel Administrator Garfield today that unless they abide by the rulings of the fuel administration that the government would take over the mines in that state.

The statement was issued by Mr. Garfield through the failure of the miners in that state to comply with the orders in selling coal at the price made by the government.

In order that the coal shortage in New England may be relieved Mr. Garfield has issued an order that all producers shall fill their maximum orders from New England states, especially those that deliver by water, to take effect Dec. 1.

The order also gives preference to New England for the coal that is shipped by rail. This does not apply to railroad and government coal supplies, they are not to be affected in any way.

Producers holding New England coal orders have been requested to file with the Fuel Administration, within the next ten days, a complete list of their contracts.

Secure seats early, is the slogan at The Colonial. Already nearly all seats have been sold for Monday night.

TRANSPORT OFFICER GIVEN FIVE YEARS

New York, Nov. 24.—Five years at hard labor in the army disciplinary barracks at Governors Island was the sentence of a court martial in the case of Charles E. Gerlach, of Brooklyn, second officer of an army transport, because he refused to serve as a lookout for submarines and torpedoes while his ship was in the European danger zone.

This became known today when Judge Hand of the U. S. district court granted a writ of habeas corpus on Gerlach's representation that his constitutional rights have been violated in that he was a civilian and therefore not amenable to court martial. His sentence began October 18.

In compliance with the writ, Gerlach will be brought into court next Monday by the officer in charge of the detention barracks.

KITTERY

Kittery, Nov. 24.—The executive board of the Kittery Red Cross has been enlarged by the election of Mrs. Alonzo Wildes as vice-chairman and Mrs. James Philbrick. This board feels that many more people, especially in the Forebide, ought to take an active part in the work of the Red Cross. On or before the 10th of December it has been asked to send to Boston 150 Christmas packages. Forty-three have been sent already. A group of people can easily make up a package together. If any person desires to contribute money for the packages, he may send it to any officer of the Red Cross. More workers are needed at Odd Fellows' hall on Wednesday afternoons. The demand for knitted articles is greater than ever. Every woman who can knit or who is willing to learn is urged to help with the war by making the men in camp comfortable and keeping them well. Some of the older women in town are doing much knitting. Mrs. James Philbrick has a record for Red Cross work which ought to be an inspiration to every Kittery woman. Since July first she has made and filled with stuffed rags, nine fracture pillows and 163 comfort pillows. From small pieces of outing flannel, carefully put together she has made 24 pairs of bed socks, 99 covers for hot water bottles and 12 surgical caps. In addition to this she has cut all the pajamas for the three working centers of the town and has sewed every Wednesday afternoon.

Second Christian Church, Rev. Carl Leon Nichols, pastor; Mrs. George Seaward, organist; 10:30, morning worship; 12, the usual session of Sunday school will be omitted; 8:00, Christian Endeavor meeting; 7:00, evening worship.

The Riverside Reading Club held a regular meeting on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fred Dismore of Rogers road. The roll call was answered with readings on Thanksgiving, and a paper on "The First Thanksgiving" was read by Mrs. Charles Gerry. The remainder of the time was devoted to the making of surgical dressings, with Mrs. Fred Pryor of Melrose as instructor. Mrs. Pryor also told much of interest of Red Cross and Y. M. C. A. work, as she has devoted much time to the former work and has first knowledge of what the latter organization is doing in France, as her son, Kenneth Pryor, is among the boys "somewhere in France," and writes very highly of the work being done there by the Y. M. C. A. While the members were busy making the surgical dressings violin and piano duets were rendered by Mrs. Charles Rudolph and Miss Marion Dismore, and a very pretty Thanksgiving story was read by Mrs. Charles Dinnane. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Ira Keene and it is expected that Mrs. Pryor will be present again to give further lessons.

Mrs. James R. Philbrick of Whipple road is reported as being ill.

Mrs. George Seaward and son, Charlie, of Walker street, have been passing a few days with relatives in Ogunquit.

Mrs. Aaron Cole of Government street still remains quite ill.

The new auxiliary to Canton Hayes was mustered in Friday evening at Odd Fellows' hall, by Brig. General Will C. Miller and suite of Augusta, and Chancellors and ladies of Canton Kluge of Portland. A royal good time is reported by all who attended.

Miss Eva Lambert of Commercial street, who was improving from an attack of the grippe, has suffered a relapse and is now under the care of a trained nurse.

The rehearsal of the Second Christian choir will be held tonight at the vestry.

Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Huggan of Pleasant street have returned from a 15 days' visit to their former home in New Jersey.

NEWCASTLE

New Castle, Nov. 24.—We are now in the midst of the season of Thanksgiving. However, regardless of the ways of grim November, we should remember one happy time she sets apart for royal living and the day so dear to every New Englander. The anniversary comes this year under conditions producing a great deal to be thankful, and yet we all have a great deal to be thankful for both individually and collectively. The day will be observed in the island town by home-coming and family reunions. Let us forget this beautiful Thanksgiving collect, Father of Life I thank Thee too. For old acquaintances, near and true. For friends that came into my day and took the loneliness away. For all sweet memories of the past, dear memories of my dead, that send long thoughts of life and of life's end; that makes me the light concerns. A deeper world than it reveals. And may all prayers ascend to the Giver of All Good for the speedy restoration of an honorable peace throughout the world.

Mrs. John W. Pridham, Jr., is restricted to her home by a very severe cold.

Mrs. Henry Cuskey has returned from a visit in Portland.

Lieut. Mack of New York was at Fort Constitution renewing affiliations Friday.

Charles W. Corson, G. K. and S. Grand Chancellor Marshall Hubert K. Reynolds of Dover paid a visit to the K. of P. lodge at their regular meeting Friday evening. Following the lodge session a pleasant hour was passed by those present.

Mrs. Sara Ricker has returned from a visit to the Isles of Shoals.

Mrs. George Simpson has returned from a week's sojourn with relatives in Boston. She was accompanied by her niece, Miss Geraldine Haywood.

The demonstration of corn and corn products given under the personal supervision of Miss Dorothy Emerson in Pythian hall next Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock is being most pleasantly anticipated.

Mrs. George Meloon, who met with a painful accident in Portsmouth Friday afternoon is reported to be improving.

Mrs. William Dotson has returned from a visit with friends in Portsmouth.

The members of the Red Cross are bending their energies in perfecting plans for their entertainment and sale the first of December. The object is one which appeals forcefully and this should bring out a very large attendance.

If you can't get your choice of seats today at the Colonial, get in line for Tuesday and Wednesday.

In order that these New Hampshire business houses may not be subjected to the heavy penalties prescribed by law for failure to do so, he desires to give fullest publicity to the following telegram received today from Washington: "The trades covered in the President's proclamation of October 8, should have applied for licenses to the license division of U. S. Food Administration, Washington, before November 1. Some firms have not applied and proceedings will be immediately initiated to suspend trading operations of such firms unless applications are received at once."

Rule 22 of the regulations approved by President Wilson August 10, 1917 states that the licensee shall place on every contract or acceptance of order, invoice, price list, and quotation, issued or signed by him relating to food, administration license number, followed by the number of his license. No licensee shall knowingly buy any food commodities from or sell any such commodities to, and handle any such commodities for any person required to have a license who has not secured any such license and complied with the provisions of this rule by trades included in the President's proclamation should be immediately forwarded to Huntley N. Spaulding, federal food administrator for New Hampshire.

Mr. Spaulding wishes it understood that any firm engaged in the retail business, which wholesales any of the commodities covered by the President's proclamation, no matter how small the quantity, should be licensed and is subject to the provisions of the license regulations.

MEANS MURDER TRIAL OPENS NEXT MONDAY

(By Associated Press)
Concord, N. C., Nov. 23.—Gaston B. Means will be placed on trial here next Monday charged with the murder of Mrs. Maude A. King of New York, widow of a Chicago millionaire.
Mrs. King was killed near here Aug. 23, last, while visiting relatives of Means, who was her business agent. A local coroner's jury decided she accidentally shot herself. After the body was taken to Chicago for burial, suspicions were aroused which caused an autopsy to be performed, and the Chicago coroner's physician announced that the bullet wound in the back of the woman's head which caused death could not have been self-inflicted.

ROCHESTER WOMAN APPOINTED CHAIRMAN OF WAR WORK COUNCIL

Rochester, Nov. 23.—Miss Annie Wallace of this town has accepted the state chairmanship and will direct the New Hampshire campaign for the War Work Council of the Y. M. C. A. Miss Wallace is now at work organizing a statewide organization to put across New Hampshire's part of the $4,000,000 campaign that the War Work Council has asked for.
New England is going to subscribe $200,000 for this work and Boston will give one-half of that amount. Worcester and Brockton have already oversubscribed, the former having raised $18,000 the day it organized its committee. Mrs. Harold Peabody, daughter of Bishop Lawrence, the illustrious head of the Episcopal church in Massachusetts, is chairman of the New England committee. Every state, every town and every community where Mrs. Peabody has journeyed in search of workers for this campaign, she has met with wonderful responses from women who want to do their part.

"This is a movement of women, by women, for women," says Mrs. Peabody. "The war factory girls are our army. Many of these 2,000,000 women will enter, if they have not already entered, hazardous occupations. Many will be injured or disgraced. A malnourished man is a hero; a malnourished woman is not. More often her life is ruined and all hopes of earthly happiness vanish like the mists of morning."
"The people of the United States have been so intent upon the war itself, that few have had time to consider the fact that practically every industry connected with the furnishing of war supplies employs large numbers of girls. Thousands of girls are filling the ranks left vacant by men. For these as well as for girls employed near the camps, the Council has begun to erect houses. Protecting these girls and women we will at the same time be protecting the men."
"The formal opening of the illustrious House at Camp Devens is a concrete example of the work of the War Work Council. It is now possible for a soldier to meet his relatives, his mother or sister or sweetheart in a decent place. Before this building was put up the parade ground or the street were the only places where he could meet his women folk. For this work throughout the country we want $500,000. For this work of emergency housing for the employed girls we want $600,000 more. Trained leaders must be sent to France and Russia and this work will demand $1,000,000. In France there are 20,000 Red Cross nurses and the skilled leaders of the War Work Council or the Y. M. C. A. will provide recreation, houses, rest rooms for these noble women.

"In this country the big problem is at this time, 'What are we going to do with the 2,000,000 women that are engaged in war work?'
"Do you know that 700 girls are now working in a naval uniform factory on ten-hour shifts, night and day, under the worst possible living conditions? We have got to provide these girls with decent living conditions. We must provide them with rest rooms and recreation."

"Lack of decency and lack of privacy soon lowers the standard of living. Tired and exhausted, girls lose the power of resistance and yield to temptations which, in their normal life, they would have readily resisted."
"Girls and women are flocking to war factory centers by hundreds and thousands. We have got to prepare in advance adequate housing, rest rooms and other recreational features."

"The problem is vast; the method for remedying it is as simple as the New Testament. Friendliness, sympathy, a normal life filled with normal activities and service for others."

"The work before us may be divided into three parts:

- "1. Looking after girls who live near encampments or mobilization centers."
  - "2. Looking after the welfare of girls in war product factories."
  - "3. Work in foreign countries where trained leadership is urgently needed."
- "Money, after all, will be worth nothing if America should be conquered by Barbarians. Victory will be empty and meaningless if it comes at the frightful cost of womanhood and manhood. It may be said of our program that this, indeed, is a work for God and home and native land."

TO RUSH FUEL TO NEW ENGLAND

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Nov. 23.—The coal and fuel administrator, Garfield has requested the Priority Board to revoke their orders to go into effect Nov. 30 requiring all coal shipped for the northwest to the lakes for transshipments. The purpose of the transfer is to relieve the shortage in New England.

SHOWING THE RIGHT SPIRIT

London, Nov. 23.—No longer a suffragette—for the period of the war she's only an English woman—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst believes women should play an important part in the work for victory by keeping the men "carrying on."

With the "White House pickets" in Washington in mind, Mrs. Pankhurst was asked if she thought national service was a better vote "winner" than militancy.

"Glad of New York Results
"Now you mustn't expect me to criticize the American suffragettes," she responded quickly. "They are my friends. As for myself, I am no longer a suffragette, but for the part of the war only an English woman."

"The only thing I will say about America is heartfelt congratulations on the result in New York."

"As far as the Women's Social and Political Union is concerned, it forgets all else than war when war began, and devoted itself to help win."

"True, we got the vote—but I think I can honestly say that wasn't the purpose of our work."

"You must remember that the F. I. S. P. U. always included more objects in its program than suffrage. It is because our old name was identified completely with suffrage that we have changed it now to 'Women's Party.'"

"Keep England 'Carrying On.'"

"We have a definite program in the nation's behalf besides suffrage. Our aim is to keep England 'carrying on.'"

"Reports received here indicate that that is the aim of most all American women."

"Women must exercise their fine sustaining force in these times. I found it true in Russia that no matter how well the men do, the women keep the country 'carrying on.' I am sure the same will be true of America."

DETROIT WITHOUT COAL

(By Associated Press)
Detroit, Mich., Nov. 23.—With the temperature below zero, 1,372 families were without coal here today according to a canvass made by the police. Hard wood and soft coal to be provided by the police for needy families.

PUBLIC UTILITIES MAY SHUT DOWN

Washington, Nov. 23.—The inevitable shutdown of New England street railways, electric light plants, gas works and factories is prophesied by the National Coal Association unless railroad congestion is relieved. The significance of this alarming prophecy is that it comes from the bituminous coal operators who mine the coal and who feel constrained to go before the country to tell their position. They declare that they are anxious to supply New England with fuel and can do so if they can get cars. Most of the soft coal sent to New England comes from the central Pennsylvania and West Virginia districts. The coal operators give figures on coal shipment compiled up to the latest moment by the United States Geological Survey, and say they can do nothing more than get their coal to the mouth of the mines and must depend on the railroads to carry it away.

According to these figures, while there has been a general increase in the production of bituminous for the country as a whole, in these particular fields no material increase has been possible. Coal shipments from these fields in October, 1916, were 373,300 car loads, and in October, 1917, with one more working day figured in, they were 174,412 car loads. For September, 1917, the production was 185,695. For most other producing fields material increases of production are noted.

It is a correct inference from the statement issued by the National Coal Association that the coal operators are to say the least impatient with the handling of the railroad situation by the railroad managers.

RUSSIANS SEEK PEACE

Stockholm, Nov. 23.—A Russian diplomat bearing peace offers to Russia from the central powers left here on a special train for Petrograd today, according to the newspaper Tidende.

London, Nov. 23.—Apparently following out its plan to cease all fighting under an armistice with the central powers, the Bolshevik government of Russia today announced the 1399 class of the army would be released from service immediately. Other classes will be similarly demobilized, a wireless message received here asserted.

Text of Announcement
The official announcement follows:
"The workmen's and peasants' government of the peoples' commissaries, has decided to undertake without delay reduction of the armies, and orders to begin with release from their military duties of all citizen soldiers of the class conscripted in 1899. Instructions concerning the liberation of other classes from military service will be issued at a later date. Upon demobilization all arms must be handed over to regimental committees, which will be responsible for their safety. The highest commander-in-chief is obliged to bring this decree directly to the knowledge of the rank and file."

Honor to Judge Manning.

Sensible men and women everywhere will be gratified by the announcement that Justice Davis S. Manning, who is presiding at the murder trial of Mrs. Blanche DeSaules, which opened this week at Mineola, N. Y., has decided to keep the trial free from sensationalism except insofar as the facts themselves may be sensational. He has made it clear right at the start that the trial is not to be what in common parlance is known as a "holly show," but an orderly and dignified proceeding with the definite end in view of arriving at justice in a capital case. The attendance will be limited to the seating capacity of the court room, newspaper photographers will not be admitted and the trial will not be a "jamboree" for the curious and the morbid.

To right-minded people this is one of the most satisfactory pieces of news that has lately been published in connection with a murder trial. The drift of late years has been toward the utmost sensationalism in the trials of capital cases, and there can be no question that this form of sensation has a bad effect on the community, and especially the young and impressionable members of the community. It is high time to call a halt on this sort of thing, and Judge Manning is to be commended for the stand he has taken.

The American public will not soon forget the nauseating features of the Thaw trial in New York a few years ago, when, among other disgusting things, one New York paper ran daily a half page or a page of pictures of the wife of the defendant in different poses. It is not probable that Judge Manning will be able to eliminate everything in the way of illustration in connection with this trial, but his attempt to keep it within bounds of decency is altogether commendable.

Without doubt sensationalism in murder trials and the farces into which they too often develop have a bad effect on the morals of the country. A public speaker in alluding to this subject not long ago called attention to the fact that there are ninety murders in this country to every five in Germany and every six in England, and we are at a great disadvantage in comparison with the other civilized nations. Failure to enforce the law after convictions have been secured is undoubtedly responsible to a large extent for this unsatisfactory and disgraceful condition.

In the case now on trial at Mineola there are all the elements of sensationalism. The defendant is a young and beautiful woman and an heiress, and the husband she shot to death achieved football fame in his college days. The sensational papers may be trusted to make the most of these facts, but, thanks to Judge Manning, the atmosphere of the court room will be kept free from the mawkishness which disgraces too many murder trials in this country and fills the sensible part of the community with disgust.

Secretary Daniels' long-promised visit to the navy yard and the great shipbuilding plant at Newington has been made at last, and appearances indicated that he found things much to his liking, with the possible exception of the overcrowded condition of the naval prison. He was much impressed by the magnitude and efficiency of the shipbuilding plant at Newington, the largest on the Atlantic coast.

We have been hearing a great deal about "man power" since the beginning of the war, and that this is highly important no one will dispute. But "woman power" also has its uses in time of war, and that there is no lack of this in Portsmouth is evidenced by the rush for positions in the electrical department at the navy yard.

Government reports show that the amount of poultry in cold storage is considerably greater than last year at this time. This, with the fact that many of the soldiers in the training camps are to be allowed to go home for Thanksgiving, will make that anniversary anything but a Fast Day.

Some of the coal jobbers and wholesalers have been trying to work off coal at prices "subject to revision," but one Mr. Garfield has set his foot squarely down on this practice and it is to be understood hereafter that the price of coal as fixed at the time of sale is not to be changed.

The appointment of Hon. Rufus N. Elwell as insurance commissioner gives satisfaction to both Republicans and Democrats. He is thoroughly qualified for the position in every way and will certainly make good.

Whale meat is said to be growing in popularity, but thus far it is very scarce in the average market. A continued increasing demand might revive the leading old-time industry of New Bedford, Mass.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Patriots All.

(From the New York Commercial)

High Americans are doing their bit to win the war with wholehearted patriotism. Otto H. Kahn, one of New York's leading bankers, turned the tables on the demagogues at a loyalty meeting in St. Paul by saying that he will keep no income for himself during the war, but will devote all that remains, after paying living expenses and taxes, to charity and war purposes as long as the war lasts. Mr. Kahn is a naturalized American, born in Germany, who knows what Prussianism means.

Those who own property or have important business interests in the United States realize that the loss of this war would mean financial ruin. Pro-German demagogues call this a "rich man's war," and a poor man's fight. Patriotism and self-interest are on the same side, now that we are at war; but self-interest would have made every rich American a pacifist before we committed ourselves to battle for liberty and democracy had patriotism not demanded the redress of intolerable wrongs. Had we swallowed the Kaiser's insults and meekly submitted to the outrages he inflicted on us we would be making more money today than ever before at the expense of those who are now our allies. Self-interest cried for peace and the rich have lost and are losing enormously on account of the existing state of war. They have lost war profits, they are taxed more heavily than the wealthy of any other country and they face ruin if the war goes against us. Within a year the shrinkage in the market value of stocks and bonds listed on the New York Stock Exchange amounts to more than two billion dollars, yet demagogues talk about a Wall Street war.

The rich and the sons of the rich are in the Army and Navy offering their lives as well as their fortunes to their country. All classes of loyal Americans are doing their bit. Those who try to foment class prejudice in war time are servants of the Kaiser and traitors to the United States. The only difference among Americans is in the value of their services. Those who have most are doing most, but all are doing what they can.

Only a Slip of the Foot?

(From the Detroit Free Press)

The Kaiser says "Italy's terrible collapse is God's judgment." How about the German reverses along the French front? How about the Turkish losses in Mesopotamia and Palestine? Are these also judgments of God?

The Duty of the Women

(From the Vancouver Sun)

Ninety per cent of the food consumed in Canada passes through the hands of women. A great responsibility therefore rests upon them to conserve supplies needed in Europe and to utilize perishable foods as far as possible. Waste in all its many forms should be regarded not only as shortsighted folly but as actual disloyalty in this world crisis. It is important that nourishing food should be provided, suited to the needs of the different members of the family.

Arbitrary rules in this case are of little value, but the principle may be generally applied, that the women in the households of the nation but do no more important patriotic service than by guarding against waste.

The question of substitution is also very largely in their hands. A little saving in every home, when multiplied by all the homes in the country, would mean a very large amount of food saved.

The U-Boats' Divine Help

(From the Springfield Union)

The U-boats, the Kaiser says, must have divine assistance in order to succeed. It would be interesting to know how much divine assistance he thinks the U-boat had that sunk the Lusitania and murdered more than a thousand innocent non-combatants.

Better Than Gold?

(From the "Guardian" of the "Day" in the Philadelphia Telegraph)

A week or two ago I mentioned that Uncle Sam has blocked Santa Claus in one line of presents.

You can neither give nor receive new gold coins this year. Too much trouble to supply them.

Besides that, your Uncle Samuel has tipped off Santa that the giving of even old gold coins will be frowned upon. Uncle needs all his gold just where it is and doesn't want great sums of it scattered around over the land where it can do no good.

But Uncle Sam isn't like the chap who never has a good quid pro quo for you. He has one, and a particularly fine one, for gold coins. He urges Santa Claus to stuff his big sack this year with Liberty bonds, savings certificates and thrift cards.

They're much better than gold, because while worth their face in gold they are much more likely to be saved than the coin.

And it's just like these wicked banks to offer to supply any amount of these gifts to Santa free of all commissions.

New Forms of Frivolousness

(From the Cleveland Plain Dealer)

The fighting man takes his chance. The transport on which he travels is fair game for a submarine. The barracks where he sleeps, the trench he holds, his stores of food and ammunition, his water mains and rail lines are legitimate targets for the shells of the enemy. But with civilians, in civilized warfare, it is different—or it used to be.

The world has become familiar with stories of the diabolical cleverness with which the Germans prepare to make redeemed territory unhealthy for the soldiers of the Allies. They have poisoned wells—a recognized violation of the laws of war for many years—have left helmets, fountain pens, stoves, unserviceable weapons of every kind, charged with high explosive as a menace to the pursuing troops. Now they deliberately plan the death of those civilians who return to homes in the territory in France and Belgium from which they have been compelled to retreat. They have placed time bombs, set to explode many days after their withdrawal, in private houses.

France, in its need for food and for industrial regeneration, has been hurrying to their homes those civilians who escaped behind the French lines when the first wave of invasion overran the Northern departments. Pensioners and townsfolk by many thousands have returned to their devastated farms and their ruined villages to take up the task of restoring their shattered fortunes, and helping by their contributions the cause for which France fights. They are non-combatants in every sense of the word, but, to the German, they are simply French men and women and children, and therefore to be killed.

From scores of villages and hundreds of farms in French territory in Champagne and Picardy come reports duly authenticated, of terrific explosions days after the Allied soldiers had moved on to new trenches and the civilians were taking up their customary duties. These explosions have served no conceivable military purpose but have killed and maimed scores of innocent people. Here is an evidence of savagery, wanton scheming, wholly without justification or excuse, an admitted proof that the German soldier is outlawed from civilization.

For crimes done in hot blood there may be some palliation. For offenses such as these there can be none. Germany has sinned grievously in many ways, against women and children and non-combatants in occupied territory, against neutrals and non-combatants at sea, against wounded and gassed soldiers, writhing in their agony, but the Hohenzollern empire has never committed sin more contemptible than this.

It is not pleasant to read of atrocities in this war. The stories are often too horrible, too abominable, to be believed, save under literal compulsion. Yet they serve to convince the American people of their duty, and of the magnitude of their task.

Only "On Earth" Good Will

(From the Springfield Union)

About this time the pious Kaiser probably is praying for divine assistance to enable the U-boats to sink some of the ships bearing the Christmas gifts to our soldiers in France.

Paying For the Bonds

(From the New York Herald)

Striking testimony to the prosperity and wealth of the country is presented in the fact that although only 20 per cent has thus far become due on the Liberty 4 per cent loan, and the final payment of 40 per cent will not be required until Jan. 16, more than 80 percent of the whole $1,163,000,000 allotted to the reserve district has already been paid.

The present backing and filling of the Liberty bonds of both issues in the market is incident to placing of such a large amount of securities and will be speedily adjusted as the bonds find a final resting place in the hands of permanent holders. On every moderate recession they offer a great opportunity to obtain profitable investment in the safest securities on earth.

Shared by the Hens

(From the Portland Press)

If eggs go up to a dollar a dozen as some predict, we can see where eggless days will become more or less popular in this country.

Say the Word, Mr. Wilson

(From "Current Topics of the Town" in the Philadelphia Public Ledger)

A friend of mine who conversed with six of the leading bankers of the Atlantic seaboard found them saying with one voice that business awaits a reassuring word from Washington, like that which union labor received in the President's address at Buffalo.

They quoted these words:

"You are more reasonable in a large number of cases than the capitalists," and the allegation that employers were "unfairly upsetting the whole competition of labor."

"Business is nervous, not to say timorous," said one of them. "Conservative investors become alarmed when they see stocks which they had thought as solid as Gibraltar tumbling like a house of cards."

"If a third Liberty Loan is to be floated in February instead of in April the message that will help to stabilize business conditions should soon be forthcoming."

A Wasted Life

(From the Buffalo Express)

The first football fatality of the season has occurred. And there are so many opportunities to die in the trenches!

On the Corn-Plaster Pattern

(From the Seattle Post-Intelligencer)

The French Government purposes issuing new coins in denominations of 5, 10 and 25 centimes which will have holes through their centers. This will enable the French to have as well ventilated coins as the Chinese.

Rumor They Are Coming

LETTING FOOD ROT IN ORDER TO KEEP UP PRICES

Youngstown, O., Nov. 24.—Investigation yesterday revealed that over 75 cars of perishable foodstuffs are being held in railroad yards at Cleveland, the goods rotting while dealers refuse to present bills of lading, in the hope, it is said, of stimulating higher prices. Federal authorities have been notified and drastic measures may be taken against the offenders.

CITY BRIEFS

With turkeys at a top price of 50 cents a pound it is a cinch that there will not be many old fashion Thanksgiving dinners in this city next week. Manager Greely of The Colonial says acts cost a third more, there is an extra war tax on film used, besides the war tax on the theatre—not that the patrons pay on tickets—yet there is no increase in price of admission.

FAKE CASUALTIES IS GERMAN TRICK

Government Agents Unearth New Scheme of Propagandists.

New York, Nov. 24.—A new means adopted by German propagandists to spread reports of suffering and heavy losses among the American expeditionary force in France has been unearthed by government agents. It was announced last night.

Letters describing imaginary battles on the French front in which American soldiers have been killed and wounded in large numbers and in which the general conditions are described as deplorable, have been picked up in writing rooms, hotel lobbies and other public places. These letters, which purport to come from American soldiers, are signed only with given names.

A letter displayed as a sample of the propaganda was dated "Solomon" and was addressed to "Dear Sister Lillie." It described a battle in which 124 United States troops were supposed to have been killed and 500 wounded.

MELLEN RETICENT ON SUIT AGAINST HIS WIFE

Stockbridge, Nov. 24.—Charles S. Mellen who is at his country place in Stockbridge was asked this afternoon if his knowledge of the suit for alienation of affections of her husband, brought by Mrs. Margaret B. Brown of New York, the wife of the assistant manager of the Vanderbilt hotel in New York, against Mrs. Mellen.

Mrs. Mellen, who is Mr. Mellen's second wife, is in her early forties. Mr. Mellen is 66, H. D. Brown, husband of Mrs. Margaret B. Brown, is in his early thirties.

"This is the first knowledge I have had that any such suit had been entered against Mrs. Mellen," he said. "She is at present stopping at the Vanderbilt hotel in New York, where she has been for about two months."

"Does a separation exist between you and Mrs. Mellen?" he was asked.

"Mrs. Mellen is living in New York and I am living in Stockbridge," he replied, "so you can draw your own conclusions."

"How much time has Mrs. Mellen spent in New York of late?"

"I should say at least two-thirds of her time in the last year," he replied.

"Are any of her children with her?"

"No," said Mr. Mellen, "the family has been in Stockbridge all the past summer and autumn. Just at present, my daughter, Miss Katherine, is visiting with her relatives in Brooklyn."

"Do you know Mr. Brown?" was asked of Mr. Mellen.

"O, yes, I know of him," said he.

"What has been Mrs. Mellen's address during her visits in New York?"

"She has always stopped at the Vanderbilt hotel since it was opened."

"Did she make the acquaintance of Brown there?" he was asked, to which Mr. Mellen would make no comment.

"Will you tell me what you would do in the event that the plaintiff, Mrs. Brown, should win her case?" the reporter asked.

"Everyone should have his day in court before being condemned," said he, "and I will not condemn any one before a trial and justice is done. I shall wait until the outcome of this suit before I even think of formulating any action whatsoever."

"Understand me," said he "you have brought to me the first intimation that such a suit has been entered against Mrs. Mellen. I will not say I am surprised, but it is the first I have heard of such a proceeding. I will not make any unfair comment which would in any way affect the trial if the proceedings are brought in to the courts."

"Do you expect in the event of a trial that you will be summoned as a witness?"

"To that question I have nothing to say."

BIG THINGS FOR THE COLONIAL

The Portsmouth theatrical patrons have found that the Colonial Theatre is making good all claims for good shows, the vaudeville season's first having proved an immense success.

The management feels so much encouraged that they are making plans for more big features and will give the patrons just as good vaudeville and pictures as they get in any city in the United States.

For the coming week the management have spared neither pains nor expense in securing what should prove a record breaking week of attendance from a point of drawing qualities, and it will combine excellence in material presenting the following splendid acts.

The New Model, a musical farce with a beautiful living models, showing the very newest creations in corsets, 1915 gowns and lingerie, a teasing pretty little offering with a couple of clever comedians and several girls, special scenery being one of the features of the act. The cast is as follows:

Ruth A. Shopper.....Al Webber
Frenchie, a Model.....Fritzie LaBouch
Maggie, a model.....May Lawrence
Lather, a manager.....Jack Barber
Ruth's Mother.....Leah Barber

Musical numbers—"Give Me the Right to Love You All the Time," Ruth and Iggie; "Busy Little Bee," Ruth; "I Was All Right in My Younger Days," Ruth and Lather.

Corsets by R. & G.; gowns by Lathrop; lingerie by the Emerson Show, New York.

The Harry Girls are another exceptionally excellent offering. They do comedy, piano, singing and dancing, and it is not what they do, but the way they do it. Clever girls, attractive to look at and they will leave you smiling when they say "Good-Night."

Cadeau, the king of the bounding wire, just to give the customers a little variety and a few thrills. Cadeau has been booked to fill in the spot on the bill to make it complete. An act you will admire and talk about.

The pictures offer the wonderful Japanese actor, Sessue Hayakawa, and a big list of comedy subjects, besides the Pathé News.

Taxpayers and citizens generally will wake up some day and insist upon business methods in city affairs.

PAY WAGE INCREASE UP TO PRESIDENT

Washington, Nov. 23.—Demands for wage increases, soon to be presented formally to the railroads by the four brotherhoods of employees, will be passed on to President Wilson and succeeding developments will depend on what action he may take or counsel he may give.

Results of the conference that the President had yesterday with the head of the brotherhoods have not yet been taken up by the railroads' war board; but it was learned today that the railroad executives feel their recent statement placing their interests unreservedly in the hands of the President demonstrated their willingness to do whatever was necessary for the country's interests and that a logical pursuit of this policy would require the demands to be submitted to the President as soon as made.

It is expected that the brotherhoods will present their new demands, approximating those that were refused a year ago, about Dec. 1. The railroads have indicated that their position will be that the increases sought, amounting to $109,000,000 annually, cannot be granted without increased revenues.

CLOSE WATCH ON GERMAN TRADE PREPARATIONS

German preparations for trade after the war are being scrutinized carefully by experts in the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, of the Department of Commerce, and the recent important report on the subject of "German Foreign Trade Organization" by Chauncey D. Snow, which touched on this point, has been in such great demand as to establish a new sales record for Government trade reports.

Since the war eliminated Germany from world trade, the United States has improved its position in foreign markets in spite of the shipping shortage and other abnormal restrictive factors. Department officials point out that the future prosperity of the country will depend in part on Germany's loss of world trade in practically all foreign markets and in part upon American ability to maintain our new prestige. American business must not make the mistake of seeing only one side of this situation and thus underestimating the German capacity for foreign trade nor the energy, application, and craft with which German business will address itself to the task of regaining favor in markets in which it once prospered.

In order to understand the significance of the information on German trade moves that will from time to time be made public, Secretary Field counsels not only imitation of, but familiarity with the German theories of foreign trade and the vital and formidable organization that with Government aid at every turn, has been built up in Germany during the last twenty years to dominate the world's markets. It was to meet the demand for such information that the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce issued the bulletin on "German Foreign Trade Organization." The unprecedented demand for it is taken as an indication that the American manufacturer is making after-war preparations of his own.

The Bureau now plans to get out a supplementary bulletin on German trade and preparations for the commercial future about the first of the year, and further supplements as rapidly as important additional information is received.

U. S. SAILORS CANNOT ACCEPT DECORATIONS

Washington, Nov. 23.—British decoration for war services can not be accepted by American officers or men is the opinion of the War Department. The British admiralty wished to decorate four officers and two petty officers of the American navy for quick work in rounding up on enemy submarine. The Distinguished Service medal and distinguished service cross were among the decorations that they wished to confer.

AMER. TANKS COMPARE WELL

Washington, Nov. 24.—Tanks for the American army are expected to be as effective in every way as those used by the British in their great drive, it was learned yesterday although no details of construction or as to the number of machines being built were available. Secretary Baker refused to discuss the subject either in general or specific terms. There is every reason to believe, however, that substantial progress has been made in producing fighting machines that embody all that the British and French authorities have learned of this type of war engine.

Some American officers have not, up to this time at least, regarded the tanks as highly desirable for the American forces in view of the difficulties of transportation and the ponderous character of the tank equipment.

There also has been some question, heretofore, as to their actual military value. British experience, past and present, is believed to have made it certain, however, that tanks will do their share on the American lines, when a sector in France is taken over by General Pershing.

The tanks developed numerous weaknesses when first tried out by the British. They were very slow, sometimes holding up the advance of the infantry to a dangerous degree and also showed a fondness for plowing their noses into mud banks and sticking there until hauled out by other machines. There are indications, however, that new British tanks and also the French are a great improvement over the first models in both speed and general mobility.

A PORTSMOUTH INTERVIEW

Mr. Pickles Tells His Experience. The following brief account of an interview with a Portsmouth man over five years ago, and its sequel, will be read with keen interest by every citizen.

James Pickles, 129 Hurkett St., Portsmouth, says: "I was afflicted with kidney trouble for several years. The pain in my back was terrible and often sharp stitches so cramped me that I could scarcely move. The kidney secretions were irregular in passage and contained sediment like brick-dust. During the night, I was obliged to get up to pass the secretions. Although I tried various medicines, I was unable to get relief until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills procured at Philbrick's Pharmacy. They helped me from the first and a couple of boxes cured me." (Statement given June 28, 1911.)

THE RESULTS LASTED. On October 20, 1916, Mr. Pickles said: "You are welcome to use the recommendation I gave Doan's Kidney Pills in 1911. This medicine has given me permanent results."

Price, 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Pickles has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

A LETTER

Dear Madam: Every well-dressed woman knows that the success of her Fall Suit depends on the correctness of style, perfect fit, becoming color shades and the wearing qualities of fabrics. My reputation for all of these is too well established to be further mentioned. They have handled all matters pertaining to the enlisted men and they have been on the job every minute.

BRITISH REPULSE GERMAN ATTACKS

(By Associated Press)

While in the main the British are consolidating their positions they won in the region of Cambrai in the last two days fighting, considerable hard fighting is taking place in numerous sections where the Germans have brought up reinforcements and are fighting bitterly to check the drive and to win back is possible, some of the ground lost.

The Germans are fighting brilliantly but apparently it has been between the British advance forces and the German rear guard, for the main forces of Gen. Bygn are consolidating the territory already won and preparing for another dash when the opportune time arrives.

Although the British are actively engaged about Cambrai, Field Marshal Haig has not overlooked an opportunity to stab at the German lines in Flanders and the gains were made south of Ypres.

Between the Brenta and Piave rivers on the Italian front the Italian and Teutonic are in deadly grip and the Italians are breaking up every effort of the Germans to break through to the Venetian plains.

Along the entire front the fighting is of a very sanguinary nature, with hand-to-hand fighting everywhere and of the fiercest nature. The enemy in their effort to break through before the arrival of the French and British reinforcements, have thrown forward masses of troops, but everywhere they have been met with heavy rifle and artillery fire and the losses have been very heavy.

Following the efforts of the Bolshevik government in Russia to bring about an armistice, a reduction of the Russian army has been ordered by Nichol Lenin, the self imposed head of the government. It is stated unofficially that a Russian diplomat is on his way from Stockholm to Petrograd with peace terms from the central government.

L. Trotzky the Foreign Minister, has announced in an interview that the Bolshevik government is opposed to a separate peace with Germany but wants a universal peace.

RETAIL PRICE OF TURKEYS FIXED

New York, Nov. 24.—Federal, state, and city food authorities reached an agreement yesterday with wholesalers and jobbers whereby the retail price of cold storage turkeys for Thanksgiving will not exceed 37 cents a pound and will be as low as 28 cents. The price schedule agreed upon follows:

Prime of Texas plain, not more than 28 cents, and for Texas fancy, not to exceed 35 cents. For northern plain 32 cents and for northern fancy 37 cents. In all cases cash and carry.

It is estimated that there are about 350,000 pounds of frozen turkeys in storage here. It was agreed that one-half this amount shall be released for Thanksgiving and the remainder for Christmas.

SAY THEY GOT LOST.

Councilman Sullivan, one of the party who was in the boat that went ashore at Hampton Beach on Sunday, takes exception to some part of the story that was published in the Democrat last evening. He says that they had been fishing near the Isles of Shoals and that they weighed anchor and started to make their way back to Portsmouth, but lost their way and landed at Hampton Beach instead. He said that the engine was working in perfect order, but owing to the darkness they lost their way and landed at Hampton Beach, where they turned the boat over to the care of the men at the Life Saving station. Mr. Sullivan said that he and Mr. Brown hired an automobile to convey them to Portsmouth and they then went to Kittery where they took an electric car for this city where they arrived safely. Dover Democrat.

The management of The Colonial have made all arrangements to take care of the tremendous crowds that will be sure to flock to this tremendous playhouse during the week.

The Italians of this city are following with keen interest the fortunes of their fellow countrymen in their great fight to beat back the Teutonic invaders.

One way to relieve habitual constipation is to take regularly a mild laxative. Doan's Regulents are recommended for this purpose, 30c a box at all drug stores.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

By the President of the United States of America.

It has long been the honored custom of our people to turn in the fruitful autumn of the year in praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God for His many blessings and mercies to us as a nation. That custom we can follow now even in the midst of the tragedy of a world shaken by war and immeasurable disaster. In the midst of sorrow and great peril, because even amidst the darkness that has gathered about us we can see the great blessings God has bestowed upon us, blessings that are better than mere peace of mind and prosperity of enterprise.

We have been given the opportunity to serve mankind as we once served ourselves in the great day of our Declaration of Independence, by taking up arms against a tyranny that threatened to master and debase men everywhere, and joining with other free peoples in demanding for all the nations of the world what we then demanded and obtained for ourselves. In this day of the revelation of our duty not only to defend our own rights as a nation but to defend also the rights of free men throughout the world, there has been vouchsafed us in full and inspiring measure the resolution and spirit of united action. We have been brought to one mind and purpose. A new vigor of common counsel and common action has been revealed in us. We should especially thank God that in such circumstances, in the midst of the greatest enterprise the spirits of men have ever entered upon, we have, if we but observe a reasonable and practicable economy, abundance with which to supply the needs of those associated with us as well as our own. A new light shines about us. The greatest duties of a new day awaken a new and greater national spirit in us. We shall never again be divided or wonder what stuff we are made of. And while we render thanks for these things let us pray Almighty God that in all humbleness of spirit we may look always to Him for guidance; that by His grace our minds may be directed and our hands strengthened, and that in His good time liberty and security and peace and the comradeship of a common justice may be vouchsafed all the nations of the earth.

WILBERFORCE, I. Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate Thursday, the twenty-ninth day of November, next, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer, and invite the people throughout the land to cease upon that day from their ordinary occupations and in their several homes and places of worship to render thanks to God, the Great Ruler of Nations.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done in the District of Columbia this 7th day of November in the year of Our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, and of the Independence of the United States of America, the one hundred and forty-second.

WOODROW WILSON.
By the President:
ROBERT LANSING,
Secretary of State.

BLUNDERS OF WAR

If our allies have blundered at times in their conduct of the war, the Teutonic allies have also missed many chances and made many false moves. Unseasoned soldiers are told to remember that the enemy is probably as frightened as themselves, and this applies to the general conduct of the war as well as to the men in the trenches. Owing to concentration of authority at Berlin and excellent railroad facilities the Teutonic allies have been able to strike with all their might at whatever points the general staff selected for offensive operations and also to concentrate reserves for the defense of threatened positions; but the Teutonic general staff has made many mistakes in its selections and the Kaiser has deposed as many generals as have the British or French governments. Let us forget the German general staff hoped to win the war by starving out England, but the submarine campaign has failed. Only one English ship of 1000 tons or more fell victim to a U-boat in the last week, which establishes a new low record for that kind of German efficiency.

If the Teutonic powers had stood on the defensive in the west and attacked Russia instead of raping Belgium in the endeavor to reach Paris in three weeks Germany would have won the war. Great Britain and Russia would have kept out of it and the whole world now knows Russia's weakness. This was von Hindenburg's original plan but the Kaiser and his general staff thought they could overrun France before the English could go to her rescue. They evidently counted on the British government leaving Joigium to her fate and treating neutrally as a "scrap of paper." That is the German general staff's greatest blunder. Germany was long of military resources but short of diplomacy and the Kaiser was grossly deceived by his spies and diplomatic sources. Other errors and needless international crimes have brought the U. S., China, Brazil and other countries into the war since it first broke out. If Germany conquered all of continental Europe she could not win the war while the navies of Great Britain, the United States and Japan ruled the high seas. She would not be in the position occupied by Napoleon as explained in Mahan's "Sea Power." She signed her death warrant when she brought these three naval powers into the war. As compared with the blunders of our allies, those made by Germany are colossal.—From the New York Commercial.

PAYING DUTY ON GIFTS FOR SOLDIERS

The American women in China shipped a large packing case of stockings and sweaters to the Red Cross of this city in care of Mrs. Barrett Wendell. The shipment was subject to a duty which amounted to $247 and regardless of the fact that these articles were for the soldiers and were for charity, there appeared to be no way for the goods to be taken out of the custom house without paying the duty. This morning the duty was paid and the goods will be distributed.

HELD IN $2000 BAIL

The bride wore a georgette crepe with picture hat and carried a bouquet of white roses. She was attended by Miss Mildred Peyser who was attired in gray crepe de chine, picture hat. Her bouquet was yellow roses. The best man was John Earl Eaton. A reception followed the ceremony attended by only the immediate relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Eaton left on the afternoon train for a short wedding trip. The bride's traveling gown was a brown sport suit with hat to match. Following the honeymoon they will reside in Shirley, Mass. The groom was a former resident of Portsmouth where he held a position with the New Hampshire National Bank. FIRE IN THE CELLAR

Chemical Crew Check Lively Blaze at Residence of Mrs. Anna Babb.

The combination crew answered a still alarm just before six o'clock on Friday afternoon which called them to the residence of Mrs. Anna Babb at the corner of Islington and Cabot streets. The home was filled with smoke and the firemen found a lively blaze in the cellar fast making its way to the upper floor. It took an hour to extinguish the fire. Smoke was pouring out of the upper part of the building and it looked as if a general alarm would be necessary. The firemen soon located a lively blaze in the cellar making fast headway to the floor above. The occupants of the house did not know the exact origin of the fire.

Dr. Andrew B. Sherburne

DEMOCRATIC CITY COMMITTEE MEET

Endorse Ladd, Hasty and Emery; Cronin Wanted for Councilman in Ward 3.

The Democratic city committee held a meeting on Friday night but not a great deal of business was transacted. The committee endorsed the candidacy of Dr. S. T. Ladd for mayor, Fred E. Hasty for public works and Samuel W. Emery for the board of assessors.

Rumor has it today that another attempt will be made to have two of the present councilmen at large, Fred E. Gray and M. L. Haynes stand for another nomination. With Robert J. Kirkpatrick out for the second term, only one candidate would be needed on the at-large ticket, providing Gray and Haynes stay in the race.

Dr. Harry J. Cronin was mentioned for the party candidate from Ward Three to succeed John J. Sullivan. The other business was left over for the next meeting which takes place on Tuesday night, Nov. 27.

Portsmouth will be glad of a brief respite from "talk."
